

Prawn Watch Training

Do you remember prawning in the rivers with family and friends?

Want to help scientists monitor Western School Prawns and restock the rivers with them too?

Join other keen prawners and become a Prawn Watch volunteer. Help scientists discover why prawn numbers declined in the past and whether our restocking efforts are being effective. All you need to do is tell us where you're prawning and what you're catching!

Attend our free training evening and:

- learn about the Western School Prawn from the experts
- observe how to catch and identify prawns in the river
- learn how to report your catch using the new Prawn Watch App.

VENUE: Royal Perth Yacht Club, Australia II Drive Crawley.

DATE: Tuesday 17 February 2015

TIME: 6pm (for light refreshments)

The event will officially begin at 6.30pm and close at 8.30pm.

PROVIDED: Light supper and training.

PARKING: Available opposite the Royal Perth Yacht Club main gate. Look for the River Guardians and Prawn Watch banners.

RSVP: Places are limited and rsvp is essential. Register your interest to guardians@swanrivertrust.wa.gov.au

Please inform us of any dietary or access requirements you may have.

Government of Western Australia
Department of Fisheries

Murdoch
UNIVERSITY

Challenger
INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

Recreational Fishing Initiatives Fund

recfishwest

